

Physical Therapy Assistants

New or experienced PTAs who are interested in learning and enhancing their skills with regards to management of movement system impairments. Even though some PT diagnostic reasoning is part of the course, the series is collaborative and emphasizes clinical reasoning to assist a PTA in matching the appropriate motor coordination techniques and movement correction exercises to the patient's condition. This course series will also assist a PTA in fine-tuning his/her handling skills and understand movement across the rehabilitation spectrum.